INTRODUCTION

Plasma technologies are used to clean, coat, etch and modify materials, to treat surfaces and water, and increasingly in health, food and agriculture. They offer precise, energy-efficient and often chemical-free solutions for modern industry.

Plasma Tech 2027, the 7th Plasma Processing and Technology International Conference, brings together researchers, engineers and industry experts working on plasma science, plasma sources and plasma applications.

The programme goes from plasma science, modelling and diagnostics to plasma–material interactions, sustainable plasma technologies, health and agri-food applications and advanced manufacturing, with a cross-cutting focus on AI, digitalisation and plasma-by-design.

Participants come from leading academic, government and industry laboratories in many disciplines. They attend to discover new technology trends, development tools, product opportunities, research partners and commercial partners. The programme includes plenary and keynote lectures, oral presentations and poster sessions given by academic and industry speakers, and it is an excellent opportunity for students to meet leading researchers.

Plasma Tech 2027 is held jointly with the following conferences:

- SICT 2027 – Surfaces, Interfaces and Coatings Technologies International Conference
- Tribology 2027 – Tribology International Conference

AT A GLANCE

Dates	12 – 14 May 2027
Venue	Rome, Italy (venue to be announced)
Format	Plenary and keynote lectures, oral presentations, poster sessions and exhibition

SCIENTIFIC TOPICS

1. Plasma Science, Modelling & AI-Driven Plasma Systems
2. Plasma Sources, Diagnostics & Intelligent Process Control
3. Plasma–Matter Interactions & Advanced Materials
4. Sustainable Plasma Technologies, Energy & Circularity
5. Plasma in Health, Food & Agri-Environmental Applications
6. Plasma for Advanced Manufacturing & Emerging Technologies

WHY EXHIBIT OR SPONSOR

- Meet the right people. Present your products and services to researchers, clinicians, industry and regulatory experts active in plasma processing and plasma technology.
- Reach three audiences at once. The exhibition is shared by the three joint conferences, so your stand is seen by the delegates of all of them.
- Build your reputation. Strengthen your company's standing in the scientific community and increase your visibility before, during and after the event.
- Find new business. Meet potential customers, partners and collaborators in a focused, friendly setting with plenty of networking time.
